The high school LOTE students began their year with a mini lesson on language proficiency. Language proficiency simply represents how well students are able to navigate language. Students completed an in-class activity to help them understand the skill-set required at each different level. Once students understood the proficiency levels, they were then able to figure out where they were on our hallway’s PATH TO PROFICIENCY. The visual path gave the students a benchmark as well as a final destination goal.

Our LOTE teachers are striving for a proficiency-based classroom (with the use of authentic resources and comprehensible input), bringing a very natural feel to our classrooms. Students engage daily with music, literature, articles and videos to help increase their ability to comprehend native speakers and new cultures. It has been a wonderfully successful change from the very traditional grammar-based classrooms.

If students complete all 5 levels of language learning here at Olean High School (earning 6 college credits), they can achieve a very high proficiency level in either French or Spanish with amazing opportunities that await.
The Olean City School District is happy to announce that the $16,150,000 capital project that was approved by the voters on March 15, 2016, is being completed on time and well under budget as a result of the excellent services of Young and Wright Architectural and Campus Construction Management Group, working side by side with the Olean City School District Board of Education and the administration. The $16,150,000 project was extremely successful. A special thank you must be extended to our Business Administrator Kathy Elser who worked closely with the financial experts at Bernard P. Donegan Incorporated to ensure the budget came in within the original voter authorization. The team was able to manage the costs so that the original estimate was less than the actual work completed. This allowed the district to complete additional work such as adding floor terrazzo, wall tile and lighting to the basement of Olean High School. As the students state, “It does not look like a basement anymore.” Even with this additional work, the project was finished within budget.

Olean City Schools Superintendent Mr. Rick Moore is in his 15th year as a superintendent. Throughout the entire 15 years he has been involved in capital projects. Moore stated, “There is no better teacher than experience, and what experience teaches you is to stay calm and have faith in the end result.” The project was planned prior to Moore’s arrival, but Moore complemented the Board of Education and Dr. Taggerty for having a well devised plan and executing the plan extremely well.

The district also would like to thank the public, students, faculty, staff, and all who tolerated the many inconveniences during the capital project.

Savings to the Taxpayers

The $16,150,000 capital project that totally renovated both East View Elementary School and the Olean High School could not have gone any better for the taxpayers. In summary, the district was able to fund $4,751,840 towards the project. This saved the overall project $3,886,623 in interest over the life of the project (15 years). By using the DASNY (the Dormitory Authority of the State of New York) for a funding source, the district was able to further reduce borrowing by another $1,493,160. The district originally planned to borrow $15,250,000, but only had to borrow $9,905,000. The voters approved an overall local share of $2,317,666; however, the result of the additional funding will show an overall local share of $0.

Next Project - Spring of 2020
The next capital project vote is planned for this Spring and will feature: Artificial Turf fields with lighting, renovation of the high school auditorium maintaining the historical integrity of this beautiful space, and a facelift to the interior of Washington West to make it a shiny and new environment for our faculty and staff to teach and for our students to learn in. Additionally, as we did with East View Elementary, we will create a new entrance at Washington West Elementary to enhance safety, create a more inviting entrance, and to make the school aesthetically pleasing. At OIMS we hope to create the largest school STEAM/Recreation area space for students in Western New York. The district’s intention is to not impact residents’ tax rate as the Olean City School District has created a very healthy capital improvement reserve combined with state building aid. As with this present project, the district’s intention is to fund the project at no additional cost to the local tax share.

The District appreciates your continued support.

Fort Niagara Frontier Days

On September 27, the fourth grades traveled to Old Fort Niagara to participate in Frontier Days. They listened to a variety of presenters including: A representative of the Haudenosaunee Mohawk tribe, French traders, British soldiers, French soldiers, American soldiers, and a captive of the British during the War of 1812. There were reenactors presenting information about the time periods from the French settling the New World to the War of 1812. The students were able to participate as reenactors. It was a fun learning experience for all. To the right is Chloe Wilson as a sentry and below is Mrs. Charles’ class making a charge during “battle”.

Art Department Awesomeness!

Ms. Cawley’s art classes started the year by participating in International Dot Day, based on the book The Dot by Peter Reynolds. 6th and 7th graders created monochromatic dots using images that represented their personalities. 6th graders then moved on to study the Elements of Design which are the basis for all artwork. 7th graders have been doing a mannequin study, learning about figure drawing and movement. It’s been a great start to the year!

Leader Lookout: Washington West is on the LOOKout for LEADERS! New this year, we are celebrating the leader in each and every husky pup. Those students who demonstrate attributes of a leader - responsibility, efficiency, determination, etc. - receive a letter for their LEADER board and are celebrated throughout the school for their accomplishment.

Writer’s At Work: Third grade students began to compose their personal narratives - but first - they recorded one another telling their personal story. What a great way to work on writing!

On September 17, Washington West hosted Families Take Your Child to School Day, where over 170 families brought their children to school to send them off on a great day of learning. Thank you to all who came out and to our community partners for helping host a great morning!
Husky pups from both East View and Washington West participated in International Walk to School Day. Over 150 students walked to school with community partners on October 2. Thank you to the Southern Tier Health Care System and the Olean Fire and Police Departments for making this event such a success!
